Like the magnificent wonder of the olm salamander. This one is named Sally.

She is 12" long and can crawl and swim about in the water of caves.

She has no eyes and her nostrils are tiny.

Today Sally is 84 years old. She has adventured in most of this cave system. She is going to hang out with her friend Berg the snail.

Hello! And Happy Birthday, Sally!

Hey! Thank you, Berg! So glad to get together today!

But her skin is highly sensitive to motion and she has branch-like gills to breathe in water low in oxygen.

ya! I was hoping you would want to go down to Bubbley Cave.

Yes! That would be delightful! I haven't rolled about there in awhile! hehe!
